5. During the Communist offensive in early January, the Chinese 50X1-HUM Communist forces in the Yangju (127-02, 37-47) area captured about a hundred men and officers of the ROK army. The Chinese did not kill any of these prisoners but questioned each man separately. After this interrogation they released all the soldiers but kept officers, master sergeants, city residents, and high school graduates, who, it was runored, would be sent to Hanchuria for Communist indoctrination. The released soldiers were issued travel certificates permitting them to return home.

6. A staff member of the State Security Bureau on 12 February stated 50X1-HUM that all American prisoners of war were sent to camps in Makden, Tunghua, 50X1-HUM and Antung Provinces of Manchuria, where they were put to hard labor in mines and factories.
